ANNUAL REPORT

— OF —

SCHOOLS

REPORT OF BOARD OF EDUCATION

The Board of Education has three duties: to care for school property; to determine and apportion the town's appropriation for the maintenance of schools; and to shape the town's policy in the education of its children. Its members are elected by the town, but the Board as a body is created by and derives its powers from the state, acting as an administrator of state law in regard to education.

During the past year the maintenance of school property has been largely a matter of routine. Aside from the usual upkeep, the Board has disposed of three pieces of unused school property: (1) by the sale of the 15th District School to Albert Schack on May 12, 1932; (2) by turning over the 14th District School to the John Tom Hill Community Club; and (3) by granting the Matson Hill Community Club a quit claim deed to the Matson Hill School on June 27, 1932. The Board has also taken steps toward the disposal of other property. Electricity, adequate drainage, and water supply have been provided at Buckingham School and necessary fencing done. Wherever possible the Board has co-operated with the town in relief of unemployment.

The Board's most difficult task has been the preparation of a greatly reduced budget for 1932-33. By cutting wages and salaries, discontinuing the services of a full time school nurse and a high school physical director, reducing transportation expenses, expenditures for text books, etc., a total reduction of $14,000.00 has been effected. The Board regrets the apparent necessity for this action.

School property and school money are only means to an end--the preparation of our children for life. Educational policy is a slow growth, and in this matter the year has seen no particular change. We wish here to recognize a year of faithful and efficient service on the part of our teachers, principal and superintendent. Through the varied activities of our elementary schools, including the special class, through four district courses in the High School, and through co-operation with state trade schools, they have worked with us in our attempt to give every child the opportunity for which he is best fitted. This purpose is by no means perfectly achieved, but we feel it must always be the most important problem of the Board of Education and of the community which it represents.

The Glastonbury Board of Education in accordance with the urgent request of the Board of Finance for stringent economy is presenting to that Board a budget of $90,000.00 as compared with one of $104,000. This reduction has been effected by cuts in salaries and wages of all school employèes as well as in practically all items of school administration. Some of these cuts represent merely a deferred expenditure and cannot be duplicated another year.

The aim of the board has been to meet the town's financial emergency fairly, with as little lowering of school standards as possible. It is not to be expected that the work of our schools will not suffer from these economies. Especially in the High School teachers will carry a greatly increased load and books and other supplies have been reckoned on the narrowest possible margin. All these things do not make for the highest efficiency and it is earnestly hoped that such sacrifice will not be necessary another year.

In the long run cheap schools cannot be good schools. If the people of Glastonbury aim to secure an excellent educational opportunity for their children they must resolve upon one of two things—either an excessively high tax rate, or state legislation by which the burden of taxation for school expenditures is more evenly levied upon the total resources of the state.

VOTED: That the Board request the selectmen to change the sign in front of the high school to read "25 miles."

As per vote of the Board of Education and the Board of Selectmen in joint meeting, the 15th district school was sold to Albert Schack on May 12, 1932, for three hundred and twenty-five dollars ($325). The 14th district school was turned over to the John Tom Hill Community Club January 1, 1932, but has not as yet been given. ## REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

TO THE BOARD OF EDUCATION,
GLASTONBURY, CONNECTICUT:

I herewith submit the annual report on the condition of the public schools during the school year 1931-1932.

The outstanding facts of personnel, organization and finances are contained in the various supplements of this statement, and are worthy of the close study of those who are interested.

We might well condense a long report into these few words: During a period of deep nation-wide pessimism and mental distress the schools of Glastonbury have had a most successful year—the most successful of the last fifteen years. Teachers were never more diligent, tactful and conscientious. Children were never more happy and industrious. The value of the public school as a civilizing and stabilizing agency was never more apparent.

It is evident to-day that we have raised our educational horizon, and instead of looking for an opportunity to get out of school at the age of 14 nearly every child is eager to stay on through high school, and even to come back for a post graduate course.

This change is giving the schools a real challenge to meet the needs of a wider range of abilities and interests during the years of adolescence. It raises the questions as to our organization and curricula: Are they the best possible? Would we meet the needs of the children better if we were completely organized as elementary schools of six grades, near the homes of all children, with one junior and senior high school for all children above the sixth grade? Ought we to introduce courses in art for all children? Should there be opportunities for more manual arts?

The Glastonbury Bank and Trust Company found it inexpedient to continue the School Savings system during the past year, and that activity was therefore not carried on.

The Special Class, which you voted to establish, has proven its worth and is a significant addition to our offerings.

You will notice that the per pupil costs of schools have dropped: The elementary from $76.01 in 1930-31 to $75.98, and high school from $134.09 in 1930-31 to $108.57. This is due to increased average daily attendance.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANCIS S. KNOX,

Superintendent of Schools.

REPORT OF THE HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL

TO THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS:

I herewith submit the annual report of the Glastonbury High School for the year ending June 17th, 1932.

The enrollment in the school for the past year has been higher than average, starting with 275 in September and falling off to 270 in June. There are fewer pupils leaving high school before graduating than in previous years. The enrollment for next year promises to be about 300. Many of the graduates would like to come back for further study if there is room for them.

Teachers' meetings, to discuss professional subjects, were held throughout the year. In November all the teachers attended a series of lectures by Dr. Kilpatrick of Columbia University, on "Education For a Changing Civilization," held at the Hartford High School. These lectures were substituted for our November meeting.

Every pupil in the school took part in at least one extra-curricular activity. The program this year consisted of the following activities: Dramatic Club, Girl Reserves, School Paper, Glee Clubs, Orchestra, Home Economics Club, Debating Club, Outing Club, and Radio Club. The meetings of these activities are held in the eighth period so that pupils who come to school by bus may take part.

The Student Council, with the help of the Class of 1931 of the Academy School and the South Glastonbury Mothers' Club and Parent Teacher Association, purchased a moving picture projector for use in the Glastonbury schools.

The social activities were well attended this year. These were well supervised by Miss Maude Clark, Dean of Girls, and the Student Council. Miss Richards continued the dancing class that was started last year, thus enabling many more to take part in the social activities.

Our Physical Education program was directed by Mr. Robert Barnes. We have added four sports this year. This was done not to over-emphasize athletics, but to spread out the emphasis and get more boys and girls into these activities. The school was represented by the following teams: soccer, cross country, basketball, hockey, baseball, track, tennis, and golf. All of these teams are directed by the physical director or some teacher. Inter-class games were held in all the above sports, as well as in volley ball and bowling.

Parents' Night was held on November 10th. About two hundred took advantage of this opportunity to see the school in operation.

On May 13th the second annual Sub-Freshman Day was held. The program consisted of three regular classes that the eighth grade pupils visited, an assembly, lunch in the Academy school, and a social hour. The afternoon athletic program had to be cancelled because of rain. This day is followed up by a conference with the eighth grade pupils and the high school principal about their high school courses. These conferences are held in the various schools and the parents notified so that they may attend.

About fifty high school pupils took advantage of the hot lunches served in the Academy school.

Toward the end of the year a High School Parent Teacher Association was formed. It is hoped that all the parents of high school pupils will join this association and take an active part in its work. This organization should do a great deal toward making the home and school function as one unit.

All reports from colleges received during this year show that our graduates in higher educational institutions are doing superior work.

Fifty seniors were graduated on June 17th, 1932. The graduating class:

Agricultural Course: Richard Christian Handel, Stancliff Hawkins Wood.

Classical Course: Walter Kusiak, Lillian Grace Lowe, Elsie Elvira Villa.

Commercial Course: Marion Olive Andrews, Agnes Bagshaw, Richard A. Bantle, Fortunata R. Bisi, Doris E. Boeris, Agnes Catherine Clark, Johanna Dorothea Dickau, Vivian E. Korngiebel, Nellie Doris Koziy, Anna Elizabeth Maynard, Mary A. Miller, Nahama Antoinette Natale, William John Nosal, Arno Henry Pfau, Nellie Dorothy Piella, Barbara E. Plank, Richard Edward Porter, Arcolina J. Preli, Charles F. Shipman, Mary Elizabeth Strumberg, Eva A. Varni, Eleanor Virginia Zeppa, Helen Margaret Zurcher.

General Course: Julius Anthony Dolenga, Francis English Dutton, Charles Finocche, Alice Kendricks Jacobs, John Jacob Karash, Grace Jean Kent, Clinton Stocking Loveland, George Carlton Lucia, Sterling Judd McKean, Natale A. Sestero, Richard D. Young.

Scientific Course: Robert Edwards Goodrich, John Wadsworth Howe, Francis Joseph Muccio.

Special Course: Ruth Isabelle Higgins.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN W. GOODRICH, Principal.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT

During the past school year the agricultural department conducted courses in fruits, poultry, and poultry breeding and management. In the fruit course the boys treated about 100 peach trees for peach tree borer, sorted several hundreds of baskets of both peaches and apples, pruned 350 peach trees and 250 apple trees, applied the regular sprays on a mature orchard until school closed and studied carefully many of the technical problems of fruit production. Trips were taken to some of the best fruit farms in Glastonbury for special studies.

In the poultry course the boys carefully studied problems of feeding and selecting the laying flock, brooding chicks, and care and management of the flock. As a part of the shop work in this course they constructed a 12 x 16 poultry house for Robert Gardella. The boys in the class also brooded about one thousand baby chicks.

The boys who studied poultry breeding and management mated a few pens of birds and hatched about three hundred chicks from these matings. The chicks have done very well so far as growth is concerned. This class also visited two of the best poultry breeding farms in Connecticut.

In addition to the work in the high school, the teacher of agriculture helped to organize and conduct a series of evening meetings at the Matson Hill Community Club. The meetings were held once a week and consisted mostly of a discussion of marketing problems. One evening was given over to a talk on problems of taxation. Once a month an attempt was made to have a social evening. At these social meetings the Matson Hill Orchestra furnished music, and other members of the community put on speaking or vocal numbers to complete a program. Early in the spring literary and musical programs were exchanged with the Colchester Community Forum and the Matson Hill Community Club.

During the year requests for help were made by a considerable number of Glastonbury people. Ten of these requests concerned problems of fruit production, thirty-five had to do with poultry production, seven with gardening, three with tobacco, three with potatoes, two with dairying, two with alfalfa, and one with rabbits. Soil acidity tests were made for six other individuals.

The teacher of agriculture made 165 visits to the boys in the agricultural department, visited various farms twenty-four times, and attended twenty meetings that had to do with farm problems.

Respectfully submitted,

J. C. DUFFORD.

TOWN PLAN COMMISSION

The program started three years ago of surveying and mapping the streets and highways throughout the western part of the town has been completed this year.

Public hearings during the past year have been held monthly on the maps prepared by this Commission. These maps show the highway boundaries, building lines, property owners, location of buildings (scaled to size), telephone poles, in fact all the information valuable to the Assessors, Building Inspector, or anyone interested in the physical structure and arrangement of the town.

Maps of the following streets are now filed at the Town Clerk's office as permanent records: Naubuc Avenue, Pratt Street, Griswold Street, Prospect Street, Spring Street, House Street, School Street, Welles Street, Phelps Street, Ripley Road, Williams Street, Maple Street, Hubbard Street, Neipsic Road, Linden Street, Sycamore Street, and Chestnut Hill Road.

Chestnut Hill Road has not been entirely approved. A new layout has been recommended eliminating the sharp curve opposite the old Pitkin property at the top of the hill. This new layout is necessary for public safety.

Property owners living along Great Swamp Road in Addison have petitioned this Commission to extend that road to the Frontier. This town road, originally laid out as a three rod road, has never been deeded by the property owners. The road has been surveyed and staked out as a three rod road, and arrangements have been made with the Selectman's office to secure deeds to the necessary land.

The Town Plan Commission has asked the State Highway Department for maps of Main Street, Hebron Avenue, New London Turnpike, Water Street, and Ferry Road in order that building lines on these streets may be established. Street maps prepared by the State are not as accurate nor as detailed as maps prepared by this Commission, but in the interests of economy, State Highway maps will be used by this Commission when streets have been surveyed by the State Highway Department.

The Town Plan Commission is constantly being requested to establish highway boundaries and building lines in the outlying districts of the town. It is hoped that as little work of this nature as possible will be requested of the Commission this year.

TOWN PLAN COMMISSION

HOWARD S. BIDWELL, Secretary
